

The King Lost His Ring

Written by Ned Jensen • Illustrated by Joe Hammond

www.readinga-z.com

The King Lost His Ring

A Reading A-Z Decodable Book • Word Count: 261

Reading a-z

Visit www.readinga-z.com for thousands of books and materials.

The King Lost His Ring

Written by Ned Jensen
Illustrated by Joe Hammond
www.readinga-z.com

www.readinga-z.com

All rights reserved.

The King Lost His Ring
Decodable Book 49
© Learning A-Z
Written by Ned Jensen
Illustrated by Joe Hammond

ELEMENTS USED IN THIS BOOK

- New phonic element ng digraph
- Words with new phonic element bang, bring, ding, dong, flung, gang, gong, king, long, ring, sang, sing, song, spring
- Reviewed phonic elements long vowel VCe patterns; consonant digraphs sh, ck
- Story words find, kingdom, linger, shining, single, thing
- Reviewed story word happy
- New high-frequency word before
- Special considerations inflectional endings -ed, -ing, -er; possessive s; plural ending -s; two-syllable decodable words

The king of Ding Dong looked at his hand.
“Help!” he said.
“I have lost my ring!
I must have dropped it in the mud.”

The King Lost His Ring • Ng Digraph

3

4

All the king's men came to Ding Dong
to look for the ring.
“Do not linger,” said the king.
“Go dig up all the mud.
You must find my ring!”

The king hired a gang of men to look for his ring.

“Dig up all the mud in the kingdom.
You must find my ring!” said the king.

The King Lost His Ring • Ng Digraph

5

The king was sad.
He could not eat a single bite of cake.
“Bring me my ring.
It is the only thing that will make me
sing a happy song,” he said.

9

All the people in the kingdom
wanted the king to be happy.
They baked him all the things he liked.
But bringing these things did not make the king happy.

The King Lost His Ring • Ng Digraph

7

8

Before long it was spring.
The ring was still missing.
The king was still not happy.

A robin looked down.
It saw a shape shining in a pile of mud.
It was the king's ring.
The robin picked up the ring.

The robin went to see the king.
It sang out, "I have your ring."
Robin flung the ring.
It landed next to the king.

The king sang out.
 "I have my ring back," he said.
 "Bang the gong and tell all the kingdom."

The king was happy.
 He sang a happy song.
 "Bring me good things to eat," he said.
 "Let's all sing," said the king.
 They sang song after song
 with the happy king.

