Coastal Crash
It started as a normal day. I planned to ride my bike along the coast road. I packed a bag and some snacks for my Mum or the local shop. I had a problem because I had to catch the bus to get to the coast road. I had to walk and catch the bus to get to the coast road and then ride my bike along the coast road.

Dear Educator,

Thank you for your purchase! This is a set for practice with advanced r-controlled vowels ar and or making the \er\ sound. It is compatible with OG or other reading interventions. This resource may be used in a 1:1 setting, small group or even whole class, depending on your needs.

NOTE: Please pay special attention to the Table of Contents. This is the order of instruction I recommend. It progresses from words and sounds, to sentences and a fully decodable story. Games are included at the end to use at any point in your instruction. They make great review centers.

If you enjoyed using this set, please be sure to check out my other multi-sensory skill practice sets. I'll be adding more phonics packs each month!

Thank you so much for choosing my store for your classroom needs. I do appreciate your patronage. Please be sure to leave feedback on this resource. It helps me, future customers, and you'll earn credit towards new purchases!

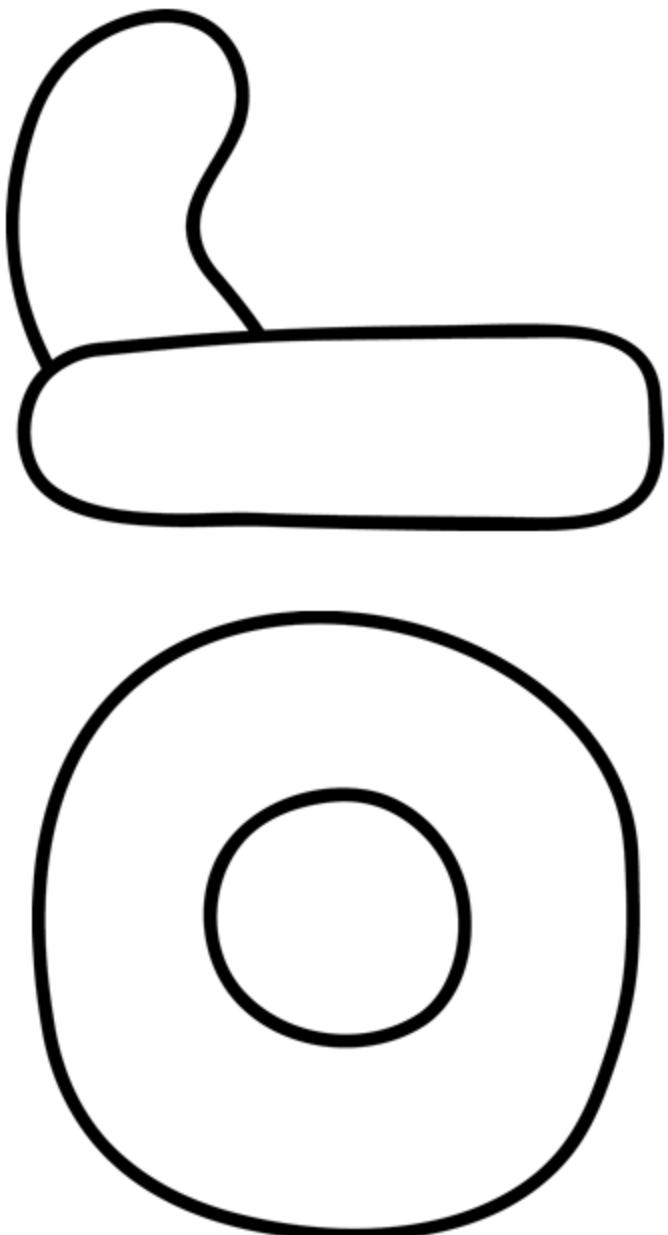

Sincerely,
Emily Gibbons, The Literacy Nest

Sentence Building

Directions: 1. Choose three different colored highlighters.

2. Starting in the "Who" column, make a path with one highlighter through each column. Your path does not have to go in a straight line. Do this with all three highlighters until you have 3 sentences formed.
3. Write the 3 different sentences you created on the lines below. Highlight the r-controlled vowels.

Who	What	Where	When	Why	How
Edgar	leaped	forward	at noon	to find a dollar	cowardly
Richard	raced	outward	last night	to catch the burglar	regularly
Edward	tiptoed	backward	at dawn	to track the cougar	haphazardly

Finding Caterpillars

Crawling among the cedar trees, poplar trees and milkweed, a caterpillar munches its way through leaves to grow plumper. Inchng forward, it finds an orchard to spend its final days before it transforms into a butterfly.

Edward walks towards the same orchard. He's wearing a pair of binoculars and a lanyard. His collar itches in the hot summer heat. Edward hopes to find a monarch caterpillar and take it home with him. He walks upward towards a hill in the orchard, stops to check his calendar, and continues forward.

It's a regular summer day, but hunting for monarch caterpillars can be tricky. They blend in, making it hard to locate one. Edward wishes he had invented a sonar tool to find caterpillars.

The caterpillar munches through one last milkweed pod and rests on a branch. Edward inches toward the branch and spots it. Using a circular container, he gently places the caterpillar inside. His search is complete.

A New Inventor

Taylor Victor was a skilled doctor. People sought her as an advisor. Taylor was also an author of science fiction and biography. But what Doctor Victor wished for most was to become an inventor.

Doctor Taylor had a workshop in her basement, where she could spend time tinkering and designing. She wanted to be an inventor of a new kind of baby monitor. She tested it many times, but there were a few factors that kept it from operating properly. She needed a mentor or advisor that could do her the favor of offering some help.

Doctor Taylor Victor called Trevor Windsor, a trusted councilor and director of new inventors. Trevor could offer free labor and had a great sense of humor. He detected a minor error, prior to turning the monitor on. Trevor was a skilled evaluator of problems. Once he and Doctor Taylor fixed the error, the monitor went on! Thanks to Trevor Windsor, Doctor Taylor Victor was able to make her dream come true.

To Play:

1. Spin the spinner.
2. Choose a word that has the same spelling as the space you landed on, and read the word.
3. Cross that word out.
4. To win: Be the first to color every picture on your whole grid.

WORD BOXES

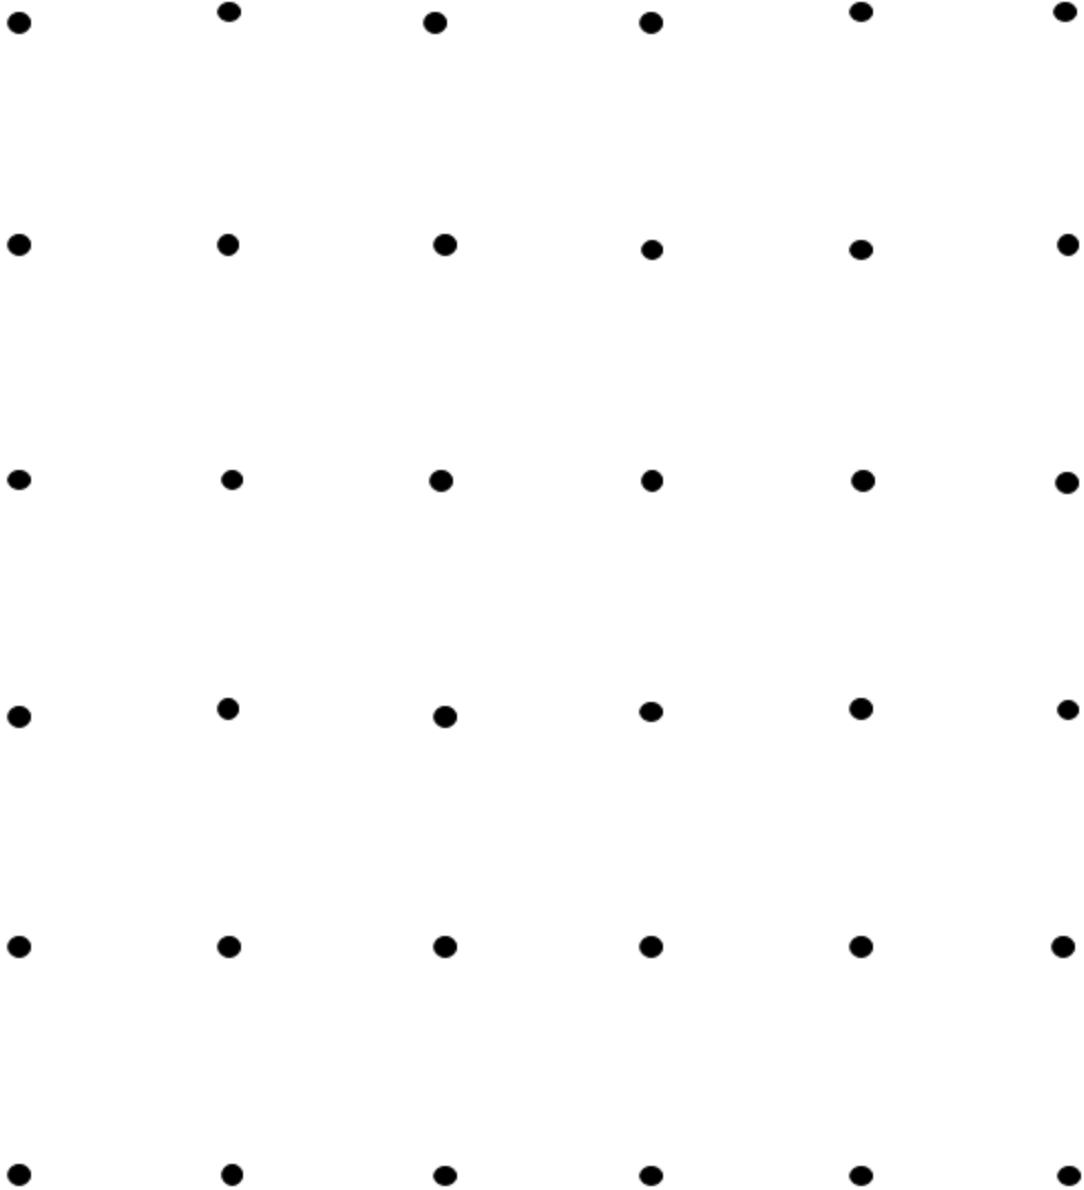

Materials: Game board, word cards or word lists, pencil, two different colored, thin markers, dry erase board, marker and eraser

Players will take turns drawing lines by joining dots to form a square.

1. Every time a player creates a box, the opponent will choose a word and read it to aloud to them. Do not show the word .
2. The player needs to spell the word correctly on a white board. If they spell it correctly, they write it inside the box they made in pencil. If it's incorrect, they try again. Then it is the opponent's turn to go next.
3. The winner is the player with the most boxes.
4. Have players keep track of winning boxes by putting a dot with their marker in the boxes they've formed.

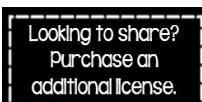

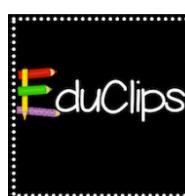

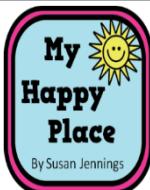

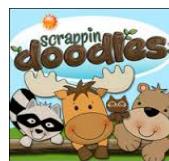

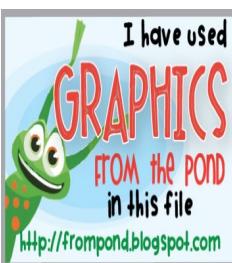

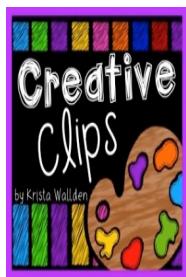

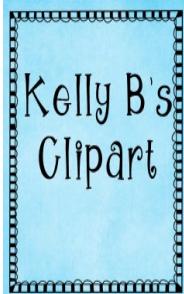

When you form a box, write the word your opponent reads to you on a white board. If it is spelled correctly, write it inside the box you formed. If it's spelled incorrectly, try again.
