Dear Educator,

Thank you for your purchase! This is a set to teach an introduction to C+LE syllables. It is compatible with OG or other reading interventions. This resource may be used in a 1:1 setting, small group or even whole class, depending on your needs.

NOTE: Please pay special attention to the Table of Contents. This is the order of instruction I recommend. Games are included at the end to use at any point in your instruction. They make great review centers.

If you enjoyed using this set, be sure to check out my other resources for teaching syllables. For tips on teaching syllable types, read this six part blog series. For further C+LE practice, click HERE.

Thank you so much for choosing my store for your classroom needs. I do appreciate your patronage. Please be sure to leave feedback on this resource. It helps me, future customers, and you'll earn credit towards new purchases!

Sincerely,
Emily Gibbons, The Literacy Nest

What is a syllable?

A syllable is a word or word part with one vowel sound.

C+le Syllables

C+le syllables

come at the end of words.

They have 3

letters, and end with -le. The final e is silent.

ex. candle, buckle

Think:

- I cannot break up the consonant and the l, so I divide between the p and p.
- I can double check by counting back three from the letter e.
- The first syllable is closed, so I mark the vowel as short.
- The second syllable has a schwa sound and the e is silent.

bougie

Think:

- I cannot break up the consonant and the l, so I divide between the u and g.
- I can double check by counting back three from the letter e.
- The first syllable is open, so I mark the vowel as long.
- The second syllable has a schwa sound and the e is silent.

C + LE Division

- Final stable syllable
- Occurs at the end of a word.
- If a word ends in le and has a consonant before it, divide the word before that consonant.

ex. mid/dle sta/ple

Thanksgiving Table

On Thanksgiving, Mom asked my uncle and me to bring the food to the table for dinner. I started to grumble, but decided to help. First, we lit the candles in the middle of the table. Next we set the squash and apple bake on a hot plate. It was too hot to handle without a pot holder. My uncle was startled and said, "Be careful!"

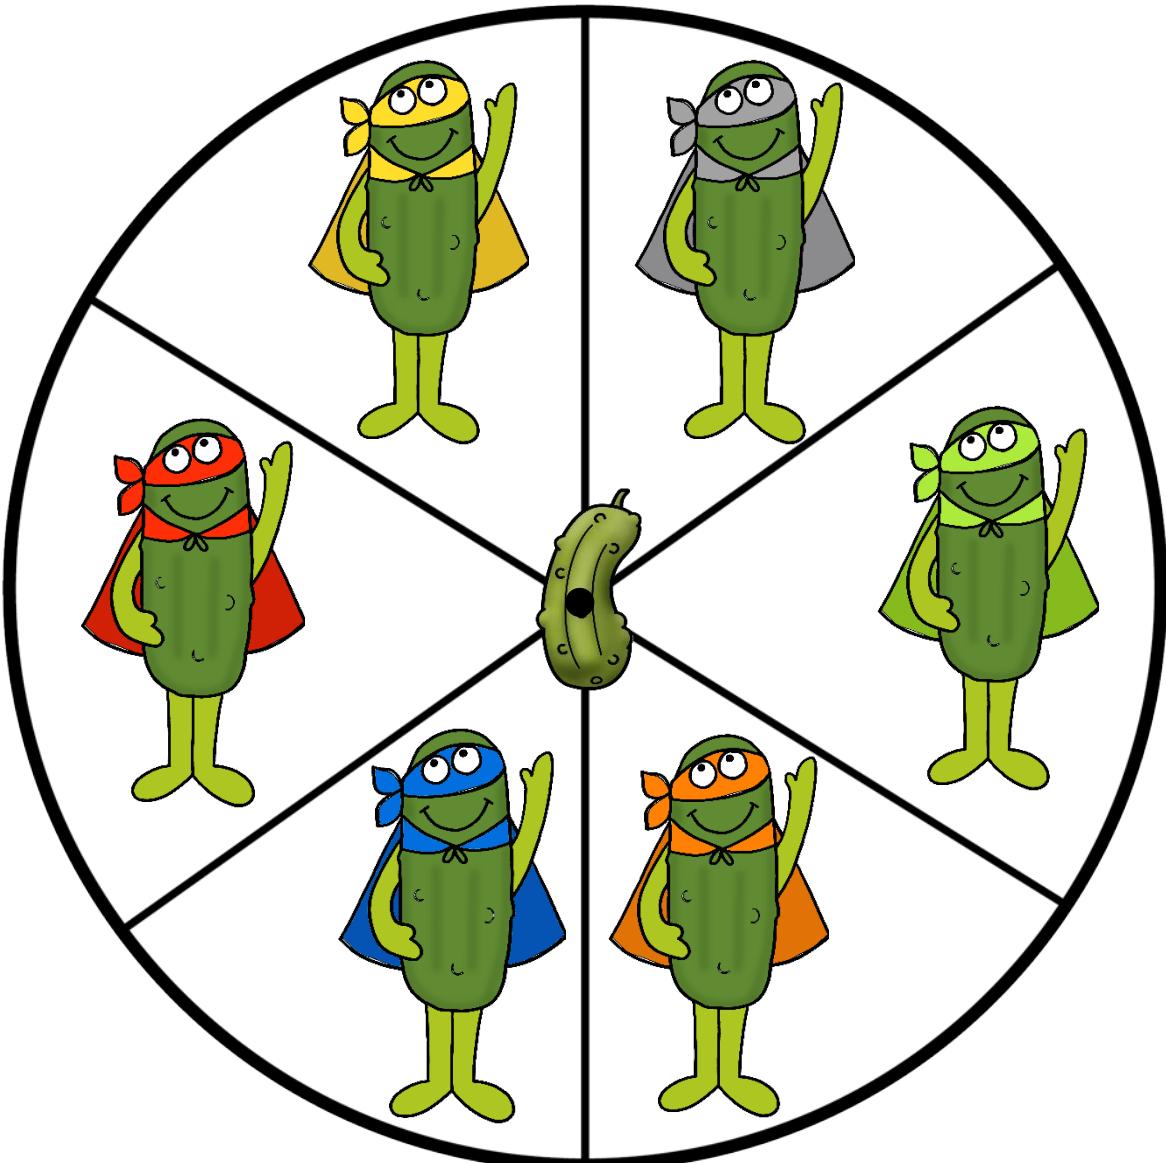

After that, we carried a bowl of hot gravy. It had a big bubble on the top that was tempting to pop. Then, it was time for the noodle casserole. We placed that next to the candles. My uncle went to get the best part of the dinner, the turkey! He set it right in the middle to carve. Everyone's stomach began to rumble and grumble when they saw the food. Dinner was finally ready and it was time to eat!

Why was the narrator's uncle startled?
