

Let's Sort!

Mega Word Sorting Bundle 2.0

Over 60 Sorts!

Two overlapping word sorting grids are shown. The top grid is titled 'Sort:' and has columns for '-lm', '-lp', '-lt', '-mp', and '-nd'. It contains words in a dashed box: gulp, elm, band, felt, camp, film, pulp, wind, melt, bump, sand, help, jump, and helm. The bottom grid is titled 'Sort:' and has columns for 'Short a' and 'Short i'. It contains words in a dashed box: bib, map, if, bat, hip, pat, cab, cap, him, bit, hat, am, fit, hit, and kit. Both grids have 'Name:' and 'Date:' fields.

Dear Educator,

Thank you for your purchase! This is a resource for you to use as review and extended practice after direct and explicit instruction of a particular phonics skill or concept.

Why use word sorts?

Since our brains are always categorizing and compartmentalizing information, sorting words is a helpful brain-based activity that supports executive skills. Sorting words is one more way to help solidify a skill or concept, but it should not be the focus of your instruction.

Should the main focus of the lesson be the sort?

No. All children benefit from a direct and explicit, systematic approach to phonics instruction, rather than leaving the rules that govern the English language to chance and discovery. You may use the sorts as a follow up activity for added practice and to extend student learning.

How is the old word sorting bundle different from the updated version?

This updated resource has a TON more word sorts than the old one! There are sorting cards to accompany the word sorting pages. Additionally, I've created slides of the sorting pages in Google Slides with drag and drop words in the margins for virtually learning. I've chosen to keep the old word sorting bundle in this resource in case you like the old activities and want to keep using them. 😊

To access all updates, login to TpT and go to "My Purchases."
Thank you for leaving feedback on this purchase. It is greatly appreciated!

Sincerely,

Emily Gibbons, M.Ed. IDA Certified Dyslexia Specialist,
